TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN

I retired from Indian Army in January 1989. While in service around 1984 during a war training exercise over hot and humid terrain involving long driving for 14 days, I developed a pre anal abscess. After an operation in Oct, 84 it turned into a FISTULA-in-ANO; which is a common occurrence. Fistula is an auxiliary waste efflux (opening) off Colon leading into rectum/anus. This is prone to frequent infection despite surgical cleanliness. This Fistula-in-ANO was first operated upon me in 1987. Thereafter it reoccurred several times (about 7 times) between 1987 to 2002. Despite numerous operations under GA in Army/Civil hospitals followed by antibiotics, I had no respite.

Sometime after my last operation in April 2002, I came across my Army Comrade Lt. Col. Harbans Singh R/o C-278, DEFENCE COLONY, NEW DELHI - 24. He advised/prescribed an alternate remedy in the form of herbal capsules known as PYKURE over a course of six months. This seems to have alleviated my trauma of recurrent FISTULA-in-ANO. Concurrently I also took SITZ BATH regularly twice along with stool softeners.

For the last four years I have remained trouble free from recurrent FISTULA-in-ANO. The alternative medication prescribed by Lt. Col. Harbans Singh mitigated/mollified this malady, which would otherwise not respond to conventional Allopathy despite several operations.

I recommend that persons afflicted with this type of disorder may take recourse to above herbal Auyrvedic treatment.
